

NSAA VOLLEYBALL OFFICIALS' TRAINING CLINICS

The NSAA will be conducting Volleyball Officials' Training Clinics this summer. The purpose of the camps is to train and develop officials. The camps are for all levels of officials -- from beginner to veteran. Attending a clinic will meet the mandatory NSAA Rules Meeting requirement.

You do not need to be a currently registered NSAA official to attend. This camp would be extremely useful for those officials who choose only to officiate junior high matches.

Campers can also choose to attend a team camp as a referee and receive feedback on their performance by trained observers. For any match worked at the team camp, the referee will receive the camp match fee.

Feedback will be given to each referee at a minimum of one match as the first referee and one match as the second referee. If time permits, additional observations will be given.
